

Career Opportunities with SORTs Corporation

Position

Project Engineer : Food Waste Business Unit

Responsibility

- Manage B2B food waste machines project through the whole cycle beginning from customer emphasize until installation of machines and after-sale services
- Prepare and manage engineering as well as system aspects so that machine handover is completed within the project timeline
- Oversee, control, and develop project plan as well as execute the plan
- Prepare and present solutions to clients including coordinating between clients and business partner to ensure project objectives are met
- Work on other environmental-related matters as per assignment

Qualification

- Bachelor degree or higher on Engineering (Mechanical, Industrial, Environmental, or related)
- 3+ years related work experience (preferably regarding project management or machine installation)
- Project-style work with systematic thinking
- Able to foresee risks and mitigate as well as analyze problems to come up with solution individually
- Able to plan, monitor, and make systematic decision
- Growth mindset and adaptive to dynamic job requirement including being able to effectively Work from Home
- Able to drive vehicles and work outside Bangkok including overnight and holiday

Skill highlight

Project planning / Making presentation / Able to communicate with clients, partners, and operation people / Able to utilize Excel to analyze and pin-point data / Communicable and written English / Able to use AUTOCAD

Salary 35,000 Baht/month

Benefits Social insurance, Accident insurance, Yearly bonus based on business results

Office location Primarily Work-from-Home, online, and on-site at clients' perimeter

Qualified personnel may send CV/resume to marketing@sortscorp.com